Schools are open for business. Drive carefully!

From the Pastor's Desk . . .

I had to come home to rest from my vacation! Friel and I crammed visits to six families in eight days! It was great seeing everyone, but I have to admit, I am tired! But, the Lord does provide. There are those moments when a quiet time arrives and I sit back and rest.

The Lord rested on the seventh day. It has become our Sabbath and the celebration of the Resurrection of our Lord Jesus Christ. Through the years, I have heard people say that it is the day to do as the Lord did, rest. But, is it not more than that? Yes, we rest, but we “rest in praise.” It is the Lord’s Day when we slow down the pace of life and step outside of our weekly routines, but it is also the time to spend with the Lord. It is not solely a time for family and friends, but time to return to the Lord because often during the week we become so enmeshed in our work and schedules and distractions that we forget that the Lord created us and provided all that we have and then rested to reflect. The least we can do is reflect on what the Lord has done for us! We can “count our blessings.”

I guess what I am saying is that this is why worship is so crucial. It is the place and it is the time and it is the respite where and when we retreat to the Lord and are refreshed to face the days ahead. We thank Him and praise Him for the blessings of yesterday and thank Him and praise Him for what is to come. And, if the past week has been a yoke upon our backs, we tell Him about it and ask for His wisdom and strength to carry on and if we are fearful of what may happen in the week to come, we ask Him for His presence and His courage to face whatever and stand firm. Worship is not only thanks and praise, but it is conversation and help to live each day in His sight.

Years ago, a liturgist told me that the worship service has its own rhythm like the flow of a day from dawn to midday to dusk. Think of this: we slowly build to the sermon and then crescendo at the altar, then we move out of the door to return to the rhythms of work and play. Yet, this rhythm is maintained by the sound of God through hymns, prayers, scripture readings, homilies, and dining. It is like the rhythms of our weekdays, yet it is unique. It causes us to reflect on how we move and have our being six days and then it follows its own course that causes us to reflect on how we live with God and one another. This Sabbath rhythm is essential to making sense of the rest of the week; it aids us in being able to handle what may come each and every day.

Worship provides me COURAGE; courage to stay firm in the faith no matter what comes my way. Worship helps me on my journey with others, whether family, friends or strangers. After I have praised the Lord, I can face the world reveling in my limitations and God’s generosity. And, I do all of this with my fellow baptized servants of God!

*Your fellow servant in Christ,
Pastor Guy*

Trinity History ... A Look at the Buildings that Shaped Our Congregation

Following last month's article, I will now focus on the first Church building that Trinity Lutheran could call its own. The Church was originally built by the Presbyterians in 1893 on the north side of 27th Street along what is considered the 100 block. The Union Chapel was moved one last time to the back of the lot and attached to the new building. Within four years, the Presbyterians had outgrown their church and they started the process of building a new church on 32nd Street. On September 1, 1899, the 27th Street Church became the property of Trinity Lutheran for the sum of $7000 plus an additional $350 for the pews. The first service in the new church was held two days later with 81 people in attendance.

In the fall of 1916, the interior of the church was modified to be more churchly and in line with Lutheran practices. The original platform in front was enlarged to run across the entire width of the sanctuary and an altar, new pulpit, lectern, and a baptismal font were purchased. An art glass window was also added just above the new altar. In 1918, while the war raged on, renovations were made to the Sunday school rooms (the old Union Chapel), which consisted of new flooring, new paint and wallpaper for the walls, and a modern lighting system. By the end of the year, a new Møller pipe organ had also been installed in the choir loft area, which contributed significantly to the attractiveness of the Church. In 1920, a new heating system was installed for the church building as well as the Sunday school rooms.

As a side note, in order to ensure the success of Trinity, the congregation approved the purchase of a parsonage in 1920. The property selected was at 217 34th Street. Another purchase was made sometime in the early 1940's. The building was the house at 115 27th Street (next door to the Church), which was used as a parish house. During both World Wars, Trinity as well as many other churches in the area, helped soldiers and sailors as they prepared to deploy or when they returned from the war front. The military personnel outnumbered civilians as Newport News became a focal point for the soldiers and sailors to rest or train as well as a camp for prisoners (Camp Patrick Henry).

In 1945, the members of the church realized that they were outgrowing the location and started preparations to build a new Church. The current property situated between Huntington Avenue and River Road was purchased for the grand sum of $5000. With the property secured, efforts turned towards the building fund. I will write about our current church building starting next month.

Mother nature took a small hit on the church in 1954 when Hurricane Hazel blew in. Damage to the building included a shattered main stain glass window and the rear portion of the church and parts of the roof had to be replaced. While the photo below shows the bell tower missing, it is the author's belief that it was removed sometime before the hurricane hit as there is evidence that at the 50th Anniversary of the church the bell tower had already been removed.

Services continued at the 27th Street Church until 1958, when ground was broken on the new property and the new stately brick church was built. The final service was held on June 15, 1958. The church and parish house were sold to FMV Investment Corp. who demolished the Church and parish house to make room for a new office building.

References for this story include History of Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church, 1923, Church Cabinet and several undated articles from the Daily Press.

Taking the ALS Challenge at the Picnic in the Park

At the Picnic in the Park, held on August 24th, Richard Anderson took the ALS Challenge and was dunked by a cooler full of ice. However, just before he got wet, he challenged three others including Pastor Fred Guy. After eating his lunch, the Pastor accepted the challenge and was dunked with a cooler full of ice. Videos of both challenges are streaming on Facebook.

All in attendance had fun watching them get soaked with the icy cold water. The congregational life committee put on a great event supported by a beautiful day only mother nature could provide. All the side dishes were wonderful, complimenting the grilled burgers, hot dogs, and fried chicken. Games were available for the young and old alike, which stretched the fun into the early evening.

Next up for congregational life is the Annual Oktoberfest celebration. This year it will be held on Saturday, October 11th in the church social hall. Plenty of food, drink, music, and fellowship will be provided. The festivities begin at 5:30 PM. Hope to see you there!

What is ALS?

ALS was first found in 1869 by French neurologist Jean-Martin Charcot, but it wasn't until 1939 that Lou Gehrig brought national and international attention to the disease. Ending the career of one of the most beloved baseball players of all time, the disease is still most closely associated with his name. Amyotrophic lateral sclerosis (ALS) is a progressive neurodegenerative disease that affects nerve cells in the brain and the spinal cord. Motor neurons reach from the brain to the spinal cord and from the spinal cord to the muscles throughout the body. The progressive degeneration of the motor neurons in ALS eventually leads to their death. When the motor neurons die, the ability of the brain to initiate and control muscle movement is lost. With voluntary muscle action progressively affected, patients in the later stages of the disease may become totally paralyzed.

Faith In Action Fellowship

Come one, come all to the Faith In Action Fellowship on October 7th. This event is intended for all Trinity members to come together in food, fellowship, and service. The evening begins with a catered dinner (Mike Rapier and Encore Catering) at 6:00 PM. We usually break off according to committees to discuss activities, etc. At around 7:15 PM, we gather all together and each committee chair will report out. It should all wrap up by around 7:30 PM. If you are new to the church or have not served on a committee yet, this is a great opportunity to mingle and find out which committee would best suit your talents. Even if you are not sure about serving on a committee, come join us for the food and fellowship. The Faith In Action night is held every other month on the first Tuesday of the month. We begin on October 7th. The next Faith In Action after that will be December 2nd.

Let the church know if you need a ride and we will make the necessary arrangements.

Do you have something you would like to see published in the Tidings?

You can submit an article by the 15th of the month or contact the Administrative Assistant to offer suggestions. Based on space available we will work to get your input request into the newsletter. All calendar inputs are welcome as well.

Blessing of the Backpacks

All children of the church are invited to bring their school backpacks to the worship services on Sunday, September 14 to allow the congregation to bless them for this new school year. During the Time with the Children, Pastor Guy will invite all children to come forward to participate in the blessing and the congregation will assist.

Support THRIVE by bringing your can goods or non-perishable food to the church. Collection baskets are in the narthex and main entry way.

If only ALL parents could sense their responsibility and enroll their children in a Church School of their choice.

If your child isn't enrolled in any school—don't delay. There's a class for every age at Trinity Church School. Services start at 9:45 every Sunday.

RALLY DAY IN NEWPORT NEWS

Sunday, September 18, was Rally Day in Trinity Church, Newport News, Rev. P. J. Bame, pastor. A joyful feature of the day was the presence of two visiting pastors, the Rev. Philip H. Pearson who once served Trinity congregation, and the Rev. A. L. Hahn of Mt. Sidney, Virginia.

The Sunday School service in charge of Superintendent, Mr. Ira B. Cassell, included the annual promotion exercises. Rev. Pearson presented Bibles to those promoted. In a brief talk pastor Pearson called attention of the children to four things Jesus would want them to do: to come to Him, to learn of Him, to be like Him, and to do something for Him.

Hon. A. L. Bivins, State Senator, speaking to the Sunday School used as his subject, "The children of the Church serving the Church." He urged all to participate actively in the work of "this splendid Church." He commended the Lutheran Church for having done "as much as any and more than most to further Christianity." The morning sermon was preached by the Rev. A. L. Hahn, who took as his theme "The Adult Membership of the Church Serving the Church." He cited passages in the New Testament as a foundation for his message—"To every man his work"—"faith without works is dead."

The Vesper service was in charge of the local Luther League, and again the message was given by pastor Hahn. He stressed the service of the youth of the Church in and through the Church. After the sermon there was an impressive installation service for the officers of the league conducted by pastor Bame of Trinity congregation, who charged the newly elected officers relative to their leadership. From an altar candle he lighted the candles of the new officers, and these in turn lighted the candles of the league membership. This was in the form of a circle light, representing the circle of influence of the young people of the Church. At all the services of the day there was special music under the direction of Mrs. Paul Malm. It was a great day for Trinity.

Trinity's Stained Glass Windows

History. Early in 1973, the congregation engaged the Henry Willet Studios of Philadelphia to create stained glass windows for the church. Although the original church windows were of colonial design and consisted of tinted panes without images, the Willet artists were asked to create images in a modern style which would tell the Christian story vividly to all who worship in their light. The ten windows in the sanctuary portray key scenes from the biblical story and the history of the Church. The two windows in the narthex illustrate the mission of the Church. The clear, etched glass window between the narthex and the sanctuary was part of the original church construction of 1958 and represents eternal life. Over the next two months we will explore the images for all of the windows. For this issue, the images of Windows one through five are described. If you can't wait, you can read about all the windows on the Church website (www.trinity-nn.org).

In the Sanctuary - Beginning at the front of the church facing the altar and letting the eye move to the right we see:

Window 1 - Creation and Alienation

The upper panel depicts God as the Creator of the world with the inscription "In the beginning God created." The images reflect the detail and sequence of the creation story of Genesis 1: Sea and dry land, fruit trees and flowers, the fish of the sea, sun and moon and stars, the birds of the air, wild and domestic animals, and , ultimately, human beings fashioned in God's image. God is pictured with a triangle behind the head representing divinity and perfection. God's arms are spread in benediction. We can almost hear the words of the ancient creation story, "let there be ..." and "It is good ..."

The lower panel shows us the expulsion of Adam and Eve from the garden of Eden after they failed to obey God. Adam covers his face in grief; Eve covers her breasts in shame. The tree of good and evil and the serpent remind us of the ancient story of temptation in Genesis 3. God appears in the window with downcast eyes; one hand points the way out of the garden. Yet God continues to care for alienated Adam and Eve. They eat the clothes God has made for them, and God will journey with them into the challenges and opportunities of life east of Eden.

Window 2 - Moses and Abraham

The upper panel shows us Moses on Mt. Sinai holding the tablets of the Law. The inscription reads, "The Law was given by Moses." It was in the wilderness of Sinai that the people of Israel received their special identity and mission. This identity was centered in the Law and the reminder, "I am the Lord your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt" (Exodus 20:2).

The lower panel pictures the patriarch Abraham as he is ready to sacrifice his son Isaac in obedience to God's command. The angel is ready to stay his hand, and a ram in the bushes will provide the substitute sacrifice. One strain of religious tradition sees this story as the epitome of unquestioning faith in God. Another strain sees this story as representing God’s prohibition of the ancient practice of child sacrifice.

Window 3 – Isaiah and David

The upper panel portrays Isaiah the Prophet and an angel pointing to a reigning child king. The inscription, “A child is born, his name be called the Prince of Peace,” recalls the prophets word to King Ahaz in a time of national danger and turmoil. The message was that God would provide a deliverer for the people. Christian tradition has interpreted Isaiah’s words as presaging the birth of Jesus, the Messiah.

The lower panel shows us David the Shepherd with the inscription, “In David’s lineage.” The inscription reminds us of God’s promise to David that his family would reign forever and of the Christian tradition which points to Jesus as the Messiah from David’s line. “Thus says the Lord of hosts, I took you from the pasture, from following the sheep, that you should be prince over my people Israel ... and I will make for you a great name ... and I will establish the throne of [your] kingdom forever” [II Sam. 8:8-9-12].

Window 4—Birth and Call

The upper panel renders the birth of Jesus with the figures of Mary, Joseph, the baby, and shepherds. The inscription “Peace on Earth” echoes the angels’ hymn. We are looking at the witness of Luke the Evangelist as he proclaims the true Savior of the world is not Caesar with his pomp and glory, but a Jewish peasant, born in humble simplicity, through whom God works true peace on earth.

The lower panel shows Jesus calling fisherman to be his disciples with the words, “Follow me.” Jesus began his ministry by gathering twelve helpers and friends, symbolic of the twelve tribes of Israel. They were a mixed lot: some fishermen, a tax collector, a couple of sword-carrying revolutionaries. But they heard Jesus’ call to follow, and they did. At first stumbling and slow to comprehend, the followers of Jesus came to embody his spirit, his power and his Gospel of love.

Window 5 – Teaching and Healing

The upper panel pictures Jesus on a mountain surrounded by people listening to his words. The inscription “He taught them” identifies this scene as the “Sermon on the Mount.” The evangelist Matthew comments “and when Jesus finished these sayings, the crowds were astonished at his teaching, for he taught them as one who had authority ...” [Matthew 7:28-29].

The lower panel shows Jesus healing with the words, “He anointed the eyes of the blind man.” The biblical witness is that God came to speech and action in Jesus to reveal God’s love and power in our very midst.

New Concert Series

Trinity has a long tradition of music excellence, an important part of our ministry in the community. Now we are excited to establish a new Trinity Concert Series—a mix of both “classic” choral, orchestral, and organ programs and “fun” events like a Children’s Halloween Trunk-or-Treat with creepy organ music. The Church Council has established an ad-hoc committee to begin this music ministry—Suzanne Beckstoffer, Shirley Fulton, Jessica Moye, and Rob Keene. We want as many Trinity music-loving “founding families” as possible to join us in creating this concert series and making it sustainable into the future. Financial contributors will be recognized in the programs and a generous donor has offered to match all donations! There will also be opportunities to volunteer your time and talents. You’ll be hearing more specifics in the coming weeks. Checks should be made payable to Trinity Lutheran Church and noted for “Concert Series.”
